The news of the battle of Leon confirms the total defeat est gallantry, and evinced a great deal of skill in nfiture to that degree that it became a perfect rua. The fruits of the victory are of great value to bresident Martinez. All the leaders of the opposition a Granada have fied to Costa Rica, and he is prosably to day the most popular man in the country. There are reports that he will erganize an army for the leavasion of Honduras; but it is to be soped that he will be more prudent, and turn his attention to the advancement of the material interests of the sountry.

to the aryaneement of the material interests of the country.

The troops of Guatemals had made a raid into Honduras, taking possession of the ungarrisoned town of Copan. They committed all sorts of atrocities, robbing the people of everything they possessed, and treating the women in the most scandalous manner. They then proceeded to a bacienda in the neighborhood, where they surprised the Alcalde and two of his neighborhood, where they surprised the Alcalde and two of his neighbors, whom they murdered in cold blood, stripping the bodies to appropriate the clothes. Truly, the soldiers of the church do credit to their rulers.

In Cesta Rica the inauguration of the President, Jesus Jiminer, passed off in the mogi satisfactory manner on May 8. The newly elected President, accompanied by a deputation from both Chambers, entered the place and took his seat in front of the former President. The hall was crowded to excess, the diplomatic corps having a place reserved for it in the gallery, which was very handsomely electrate and adorned with all the beauty of the capital. After several speeches from members of the former administration, enting with that of the retiring Fresident, the oath was administered to the President elect, who took the chair and made a brief exposition of the principles by which he would be guided in the administration of affairs. His course will probably be liberal and just, and give general satisfaction by his determination to take no part in the unfortunate struggle now going on between the neighboring republics.

News from the Argentine republic advises of numer-matirmishes between the government forces and the surgent mountainers, all in favor of the government. The contract has been closed with Mr. Wheelwright for railrend between Reserved and Confess Seven vessels—the Rosa Carmeso, Rose Patricia, Carolina, Sulliermo, Castro, Cora, and one other, name unknown—combined their forces to commit one of the greatest outrages ever committed upon an innocent people. The captains sent on shore eighty armed men, with orders to conceal themselves, and upon a signal being made to advance to fire a volley and to surround the natives, they in the meantime enticing them to the beach with beads and other articles of traffic. A large number being gathered together, the signal was made, and ten were killed and wounded by the discharge, and over two hundred taken prisoners and divided among the vessels. The Cora was afterwards captured by the natives and delivered up to the French at Tahiti, and in the testimony taken by the French anthorities is embodied the above account.

Upon the facts becoming known to the government of Pera, it suspended at once all licenses and required that vessels arriving should have no intercourse with the shore until it had been made manifest that the laborers came under contracts, and that no violence had been cemmitted before or during the younge. Jose Rodriguez, captain of the Guillermo, has been arrested, and awaits trial on charges receiling from declarations taken in Tahiti in the case of the Cora, and the others, when captured, will be treated in the same manner.

a set of complimentary resolutions engrossed and sultably framed.

Occosm. Hows, in response, made a very lengthy speech, concluding as follows:—It is said our soldiers are disastisfed and disappointed. Having entertained seventeen thousand and fifty four of them in the last twelve months, with our arrivals now averaging about one hundred per day, I feel that I can speak for them; and I am ready to admit that they are disastisfaction and disappointed. But it is a righteous dissatisfaction and disappointment, and it is in the thought and fact that we, whom they have left behind to protect their rights and to guard their all, will permit high treasen to be publicly spoken in our very midst unpunished and usrebaked. The time has come for us to say, each and all of us, as did Franklin, when in his presence a friend of his spoke against the government, "You are an enemy to my country and I am yours." Yee; the issue has been loreed upon us to go to that great ballot box of nations, the battle field, and there to vote on the question of government or anarchy, the rule of majorities or minorities, the Declaration of independence or the edicts of plantation life. Our fathers voted on these questions and closed at Yorktown. And now the vote is doubted. On the face of every soldier is written that the Stars and Stripes will wave over every inch of our soil; that those who, is malled or in delusion, have taken up arms against us will have most cause to rejoice when the triumph of our arms shall have been accomplished. Our flag is stroug.

Counterpairs on the Poetal Currency.—Some dangerous counterfeits of the fifty cent denomination on the poetal currency have got into circulation. They are well executed and would pass readily, except on the very closest inspection. They differ from the grounde in the following particulars:—The likeness of Washington on the face is very poor, the '50' on the right runs into the margin, and the '50' on the back is of a darker shade than in the original.

Loer on Stolen-Ten Trourand Dollars Missing.—A package of Treasury notes, amounting to $10,000, was lost by Mr. J. De Peyster Ogden, of the Bleecker street Savings Bank, on Saturday last. It is supposed that the money was stolen from Mr. Ogden as he was getting into an omnibus at the corner of William and Wall streats, but it is merely a matter of conjecture. The package contained ten $1,000 dollar notes, and should, we think, be easily traced to the thieves if the detectives choose to exercise their ingenuity. A reward of one thousand dollars is offered for the recovery of the money, which ought to be a sufficient indocement for the gentlemen at Mr. Kenned's office to bestir themselves in the matter.

Fatal Fall Now A Window.—Catharine Delaney, a widow, living at No. 65 Mott street, fell from a third story window on Thursday night and was instantly killed. Policeman Bigley, of the Sixth precinct, subsequently proceeded to the apartments occupied by decased and forced the door open, when be discovered two children, aged eleven and fourteen years, lying in bed asiesp. The boys were both unconscious of their situation. Decased is said to have been intoxicated during the day, and it is supposed that she fell out of the window while laboring under the effects of delirium tremens.

HENRY WINTER DAVIS RENOMINATED FOR COMGRESS.

BALTIMORE, June 6, 1863.

The Union Convention to-night nominated Hon. Henry Winter Davis as representative for the Third district. He was serenaded and made a speech, in which he said he should, if elected, support the entire policy of the administration. There should, he said, he no side insues. It was time for Maryland to speak out boldly. He supported emancipation, and he was for the vigorous prosecution of the way and conquering a peace.

The chemy's increwas ambuscade. The fight was severe, and lasted half as hour, when our little band withdrew, defeated. Major Lipport is reported mortally wounded, and about eighty men are missing, supposed to be prisoners in the hands of the rebeis. The enemy's loss is heavy, and they were unable to pursue. The news of this defeat produced considerable excitement at Pilot. Knob, and it is now rumored the rebeis are again advancing on latterson in force. May the report prove true. The Chino soldiers in that neighborhood would be rejoiced to believe it.

An effort is about to be made to raise a negro regiment in this state. Everybody, from Governor Gamble down, is in favor of ridding the State of the surphs negro population as soon as practicable. The certificity that emancipation, in them form, will soon be decreed, leads every thinking man to hope that the negroes will be sent out of the State, and they may as well be made food for Southern powder as white men. The Illinoisans are very bitter on Missourians for allowing escaped slaves to enter the Sacker State. They have adopted the policy of foreing linem back. A family were driven back near Hannibal tast week, which the radical papers pronounce an outrage. Yesterday afternoon seventeen more prominent rebel sympathizers were shipped suthward from this city, and to day the papers contain all the details of the number of night gowns, chemises, etc., carried off by the women. That there may be no mistake about this matter, it is expressly avowed that the explision of notorious rebel sympathizers is in jursannee of direct orders from the War Bepartment. The exiles who they seiterday are undoubtedly guilty of sundry acts of tenson, and if the policy is to be carried out it is proper they should be even off, it any are sent. The wife of ex-Senator Trusten Polk and her daughters, and several virulent female secessionists, who have been detected in secreting rebel mails, were among these who departed on this occasion. They will be ecorted to the robel lines, not Tuso

A large amount of commissary stores has been shipped, down the river for Gen. Banks' army.

THE CASE OF CAPTAIN J. TOWNSEND DANIEL. So much of Special Orders No. 193, issued from the War Department, as dismisses Capt. J. Townsend Daniel, Thirty sixth New York Volunteers, is peremptorily re-voked by the President, the charges against him having been proved to be entirely false and malicious misrepre-

Captain Daniel has been in thirteen battles and skirmishes, in all of which he has distinguished himself. On the 22d of May, 1862, he crossed the Chickshominy at Bottom's Bridge in advance of the army, when he had a brillians skirmish with the enemy, driving him in. He was severely wounded at Pair Oaks, May 31, 1862, insomuch that his life was despaired of. Nevertheless he rejoined his regiment on the pasinsula while lame.

Captain Daniel was throughout the Maryland campaign, and at both battles of Fredericksburg, and led the rights company of the Thirty-sixth New York infantry (which regiment was the first to plant its colors on the heights) at the storming of Marye's Heights, Fredericksburg, and was the same day at the battle of Salem Heights.

Captain Townsend lannel is recommended to the President by his Colonel (Browne) for a brevet commission at major for gallant and meritorious conduct and general high bearing as an officer and a gestleman, and he is highly endersed by Generale hovins, Couch and thooker. The orders restoring Captain Inniel are Special Orders, No. 239, insued from the War Department.
